TROLLEY DIRECTORS TAKE STEPS TO ABANDON MOST OF COLONIAL LINE

At Special Meeting Tuesday Initial Steps Taken to Bring Before Public Service Commission Proposed Abandonment of Colonial Line Where It Duplicates Kingston City Division.

The board of directors of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company at a special meeting held in this city Tuesday took the necessaryy initial steps to bring before the public service commission the matter of the proposed abandonment of that part of the Colonial line which duplicates the Kingston City Division. The action taken by the directors specifies the abandonment of the following parts of the Colonial Division:

The line on Wall street and Main street to Fair street. The line on Main street and Clinton avenue from Fair street to St. James street.

Why Action Was Taken.

It will be remembered that the public service commission has undertaken, in conformity with the request contained in the resolutions adopted some time ago by the Chamber of Commerce, when the matter of abandoning the Washington avenue tracks was taken up, and also joined in by the trolley company, to make an examination of the trolley operating situation in this city.

The trolley company, however, has been lately advised by the public service commission that in order to make the examination and report thereon it will be necessary to have proceedings pending before it.

It is for that reason that the trolley road directors have instituted the several abandonment proceedings as mentioned.

Must Be Adopted By Stockholders.

These declarations of abandonment must be ratified and adopted by the stockholders of the trolley road after thirty days notice of meeting and publication of such meeting.

It is expected that the stockholders who will meet later will ratify the action taken by the board of directors on Tuesday.

Why Subway Is Maintained.

The subway and the line on Thomas and Dederick streets are retained for necessary operations during the elimination of the West Shore railroad grade crossing, which is the reason why no application to abandon that section of the line is made.

May Use Wall Street Line.

The directors also decided that if the line in Wall and Main streets between North Front and Fair streets can be utilized in practical operation for east bound cars it is probable that the abandonment of that part of the Colonial line will not be pressed.

To Use Washington Avenue Line.

It will be seen that the abandonment of the Washington avenue tracks is not included in the proposed program of the trolley road. This will mean that if the abandonment proceedings are ratified by the public service commission, the Kingston City division cars will run through from Kingston Point to Marius street using the Colonial tracks on North Front street and Washington avenue and the Colonial tracks on the Strand through Ponckhockie to Kingston Point.

To Run Every Five Minutes.

With the abandoning of the greater part of the Colonial tracks it will mean that cars will run more often on the Kingston City Division. The trolley road officials are busy figuring out a new schedule which will be put into effect if the application to abandon the tracks is granted. The new schedule will call for a car every five minutes between switches during the rush hours instead of the present ten minute schedule. It is likely also that instead of twenty minutes between cars during the quiet hours the time will be reduced to ten minutes.

More Switches Needed.

In rearranging a schedule to give better trolley service with the Colonial line abandoned it means that the trolley road will likely have to have to install one or more new switches. In building a switch care has to be taken in having it located between present switches so that cars will meet approximately on time at each switch as at present.

Will Improve the Service.

The directors of the trolley road believe that if allowed to abandon the greater part of the Colonial division it will mean better trolley service for Kingston with cars running more often and better facilities for handling crowds during the rush hours of the day and evening.

With a new schedule in effect it would mean more cars in use than at present on the Kingston City Division, and it is likely that there would be no reduction in the force of motormen and conductors.

THREE LYNCHED AT DULUTH

Six Negro Roustabouts of Circus "Tried" by Mob Which Took Them From Jail—Three Found Guilty of Assault on White Girl, Who Died Later.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Duluth, Minn., June 16.—Minnesota state militiamen restored order in the streets of Duluth today, following a night of mob rule which resulted in the lynching in one of the main streets of the city of three negro circus roustabouts who had been arrested for attacking a 17 year old white girl.

The girl was reported today to have died as the result of her experience.

Following the news of the attack, which spread quickly throughout the city, the mob, numbering some 5,000 men, broke into the jail where the negroes were confined and took them from the cells. Six negroes had been arrested in connection with the crime. At a "summary court," called by the mob, three were "acquitted" and the rest were adjudged guilty of the crime.

CHAS. H. STYLES AGAIN ON HAND

But 85 Year Old Exempt Fireman Will Not March in This Year's Parade—Was Member of Kingston Company in 1854.

One of the old time fire fighters of Kingston who is in town for the Firemen Convention is Charles H. Styles who is now a resident at Eldred, Sullivan county. Although 85 years old Mr. Styles could not resist the temptation to come to Kingston, his old home, and again mingle with the "boys." Mr. Styles is one of the oldest exempt firemen and as credentials brought along with him a certificate of membership in the old Fire Engine Company, No. 3, dated October 6, 1854, and signed by John H. Schryver then president and J. Hardenbergh, clerk. Also a certificate of membership in Wiltwyck Hose, No. 1, dated March 29, 1857, and signed by William Hendricks, president of the company and J. Hardenbergh, clerk.

Mr. Styles is a native of Kingston and spent his early life here, going away with the old 20th Regiment at the outbreak of the civil war. At the close of the war he returned to Kingston until he accepted a position in New York city which he held for over 40 years. Mr. Styles will be on hand Thursday when the parade starts but on account of his advanced age he will not participate in the parade. Five years ago when the convention was held in Kingston he fell in line and marched from one end of the city to the other.

HONORS HOOVER AND HASBROUCK

Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck of Kingston and Herbert C. Hoover were the speakers at the Rutgers College alumni dinner in New Brunswick, N. J., on Tuesday. Mr. Hoover warned politicians of the growth of non-partisan sentiment and Judge Hasbrouck assailed President Wilson for making the League of Nations a part of the peace treaty and declared that in so doing he "threw a monkey wrench into the machinery."

The honorary degree of LL. D. was conferred on both Mr. Hoover and Judge Hasbrouck at the 154th commencement of the college. Judge Hasbrouck is a Rutgers graduate.

Shrine Designed Badge.

The official badge of the convention, described in Tuesday's Freeman was designed by Albert H. Shultis a member of Central Hook and Ladder Company, and of the association.

A New Member Received.

At the meeting session of the Sick and Social Society of the Spring Street German Lutheran Church, held Tuesday evening, Alexander Ostrander was received into membership.

CITY PLUMBERS RECEIVE $7 DAY

Tuesday following a conference between the master plumbers of the city and a committee from the local Plumbers' Union, a new agreement was signed fixing the wage scale at $7 a day, effective this month, and continuing in force until next June. The local plumbers had been receiving a wage of $5 a day, but claimed that they were unable to make ends meet on that wage with the price of food and clothing climbing daily.

North Front Street Wakes Up.

The Joyland carnival, which was here all last week and which will remain this week, is daily attracting large crowds to the Kingston Fair Grounds on Washington avenue at the head of North Front street. New shows have been added this week in addition to those of last week. The largest attendance yet at the carnival was Saturday evening, when the grounds were crowded. North Front street, leading to the carnival grounds, was the liveliest in years, presenting a regular metropolitan air.

Boom For Schoonmaker.

Under the heading "Would Make Good" the Saugerties Post of Tuesday, June 15, contained the following: John D. Schoonmaker of Kingston, one of Ulster county's best known men, and a citizen of high repute, is being favorably mentioned for the Republican congressional nomination. Mr. Schoonmaker is the kind of a man the district needs to represent it at Washington, D. C.

They Won't Parade.

The Saugerties Post says:

For the first time within the memory of the oldest member of Washington Hook & Ladder Co., the company will not participate in a Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association parade. The reason why the Hooks "won't" this year, is due to the shabby way in which Kingston "passed up" Saugerties last year.

Newark, N. J., June 16.—Charles R. Hully was killed and Richard Kinard probably fatally injured by an explosion of acetylene gas torches they were using in at attempt to open an old safe in an automobile shop in Orange street. Mexico's Huge Obligations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, Mex., June 16.—It will require $250,000,000 to put Mexico back on her feet and make overdue payments on the international debt, according to the treasury department today. In addition to the international debts there are many claims for revolutionary damage to be met.

Will Drill At Reviewing Stand.

O. H. Booth Hose Company, No. 2, Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps of Poughkeepsie which will take part in the parade Thursday is unique in that every member of the corps is a member of the Fire Company. This corps will give a prize winning drill at the reviewing stand, under direction of Major R. Freer.

Rack for Convention.

Frank E. Wiley, of Wiley & Peterson, publishers of the Suffern Independent, and high grade job printers, is attending the firemen's convention as a delegate. William G. Peterson, of the firm, is a former Kingston boy and printer, having been employed on The Freeman a number of years ago.

GEORGE J. SWEET NEW PRESIDENT OF H. V. V. F. A., POUGHKEEPSIE NEXT CONVENTION MEETING PLACE

Time Changed to Fourth Week in June—Threatened Contest For Director Averted By Naming Roscoe Irwin to Job—Andrew J. Murphy Re-Elected Treasurer.

Without sign of contest of any kind, the thirty-first annual convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association came to an end today, after having voted down a proposition to make officers ineligible to succeed themselves and rewarding Roscoe Irwin, the retiring president, for his efforts to smooth over the threatened contest for director between Alderman William B. Martin and William H. Kolts, by giving him the pacificator's reward—the office in dispute.

The threatened fight between Alderman Martin and Mr. Kolts, who was a candidate to succeed himself as director, has been brewing for some time and during all of Tuesday and until the delegates began to assemble this morning it was agreed among delegates generally that the fight would be bitter because Mr. Kolts's friends believed he was entitled to a re-election on his record, which contributed, it was pointed out, to the success of the association during the past year, and because Alderman Martin's friends believed that he earned the office by his activities as a member of the local committee.

Former Mayor Irwin this morning called the contestants into conference and explained that a contest which might develop animosities would be determined to the success of the association and waved the olive branch and also pulled out some of the neck and tail feathers from the dove of peace. His efforts were so highly appreciated that Mr. Kolts agreed to withdraw his name as a candidate for director and intended to nominate J. Philip Beichert or some other Kingston fireman. Alderman Martin said he would not withdraw. Just before the convention proceeded to elect a director, Mr. Irwin suggested that the band play some selection because he understood the fire works of the convention would commence immediately afterward.

When the band stopped playing, there was an awkward pause during which Mr. Irwin again reminded the convention that there was a contest for director. While Mr. Kolts waited, apparently, for Alderman Martin to be placed in nomination, the latter sat tight and the awkwardness of the situation continued until Samuel Fowler of Rensselaer came to the rescue by nominating Mr. Irwin and urging his election as a man who would be acceptable to everyone because of his modesty in conducting the affairs of the association and was not connected with any clique. The nomination was quickly seconded by Frank P. Quigley of this city, and several delegates moved that nominations be closed, which was put by George J. Sweet, the newly elected president and carried. Then the secretary was directed to cast the ballot for Mr. Irwin. Augustus Shufeldt of this city asked if other candidates did not get a chance, but nominations having been closed, Mr. Irwin was elected with only one dissenting vote.

After Mr. Irwin had thanked the convention for the great surprise, Mr. Koltz announced that the election suited him "to a T." While he had been a candidate to succeed himself, he said, Alderman Martin and some of his friends had been dissatisfied with his record and had decided to run the alderman. Mr. Kolts said he had withdrawn in favor of Mr. Beichert or some other Kingston man, but he was pleased just the same with Mr. Irwin's election. Alderman Martin said he also felt pleased in having held out because in that way he had succeeded in getting a satisfactory director.

Show Signs of Uprising.

The morning session was marked by much oratory and a demonstration against what some of the speakers heatedly termed a "clique" in the association which prevented a young man from holding office. The session opened with prayer by the Rev. Dr. Leeper, of the First Dutch Church, which Mr. Irwin attends, who offered thanks for God's many gifts through nature and for the "get together" spirit which fraternal organizations were manifesting.

On account of the activities of Frank P. Quigley, who was elsewhere engaged in preparing for delegates' entertainment, Charles W. Murphy of Beacon was appointed a member of the auditing committee in his place.

Frank W. Wiley of Suffern, for the committee on resolutions, reported on the two resolutions offered Tuesday afternoon, that only a minority of the committee members attended the committee meeting Tuesday evening and therefore reported back both resolutions for action by the convention acting as committee of the whole.

The first resolution was that of Lucullus E. Dunne to make officers, except the secretary, ineligible for reelection. There were some preliminary parliamentary motions and amendments which finally brought Mr. Dunne to the floor. He wanted a roll call, to which some delegates objected because it would be "tedious," because he said the identity of delegates could not be established otherwise and he had attended conventions where motions had been determined by those who were not delegates. Among those who participated in the preliminaries were James G. Tubby, Charles Partian, Henry E. McKenzie, W. H. Jenkins of Haverstraw, who thought a year not too much time to "carefully and prayerfully" consider the proposed change. Augustus Shufeldt, Judge Harry Arnold of Staatsburgh and Poughkeepsie and ex-City Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr. A motion by Mr. Tubby to table the Dunne resolution was amended by Mr. Dunne, to take it up in committee of the whole, and the amendment prevailed. Mr. McKenzie and Mr. Brinnier were appointed tellers but on a rising vote there were so many delegates in favor of the amendment that they did not bother counting noses.

Against "The Powers That Be."

Mr. Dunne, explaining his resolution, said while the association had many members, delegates had no standing when they want to run for office because they are "floored by the powers that be." Because a man is a "good fellow" is no reason why he should continue in office indefinitely. Under existing rules, if John Smith wants to run for office and the powers that be say "No," he does not run. The younger element has no chance whatever.

Denial of Clique.

Samue Fowler of Rensselaer denied there was any clique and left it to delegates who had always known him to say whether he had ever told an untruth. Meetings were so open and above-board that even firemen who were not directors were allowed to attend, to make suggestions and motions. Nobody was ever gagged. If there was a clique, how was it possible that Harry Arnold of Staatsburgh, with only one fire company had been elected president? Until the present open method of selecting officers had been adopted, there had been a clique but now everything was on a business and above-board basis. He pleaded that delegates refrain from binding themselves with an iron clad rule which would prevent them from voting for officers they wanted.

Brinnier Against "Gag Rule."

William D. Brinnier, Jr., said he had the most kindly feeling not only for the aged first president (George E. Scott) but for the present president (Mr. Irwin), but he had no respect for anyone who would say that a young man could come to the convention looking for anything and get it. Last night he attended a supposedly open meeting, but while there he heard Fowler tell the committee they must submit the resolutions to the convention. He had to ask Mr. Wiley to submit a minority report which it was now proposed to table. Did that show a close corporation? This attempt at gag rule was not fair. There were too many repeaters. Could Fowler overlook the fact that Judge Arnold was listed under the Poughkeepsie delegates. There was not a young man in office and presidents and vice-presidents had always held offices. If the directors were so competent, why was it reported at the Rensselaer meeting several years ago that there had been a shortage of funds? When any organization attempts to force down the same crowd year after year, it is time for a change.

Judge Arnold said Mr. Brinnier's eyeglasses were dim this morning, or he would notice his name under the Staatsburgh delegates.

"That's all right," said Mr. Brinnier, "but look at your name under Poughkeepsie."

Judge Arnold admitted that Poughkeepsie was a fine town to be connected with. Five years ago he came to the convention looking for representation for young men. He went to delegates from the small places and asked them if they ever had had anything. They never had. He kept away from Catskill, Kingston and Saugerties but looked only for men from small towns. The result had been quite unexpected to him, because he was elected.

Mr. Dunne—"Didn't you have the powers behind you?"

Judge Arnold—"Yes, the power of the delegates."

In the future, said Judge Arnold, the convention must look to the small places because eventually the big towns will go out of the convention as they adopt paid departments.

Mr. Kent of Cordis Hose asked whether there was not a state when Judge Arnold was nominated and if the twenty minute adjournment taken at that time was not to allow those who were on the slate to be seen.

No Figure, Says Shufeldt.

Augustus Shufeldt said the association was distinctly fraternal and there should be no gag rule. But where a man served faithfully, without pay or reward, he should be allowed to continue in office if the delegates wanted him. To say a man cannot hold office unless he belongs to a clique was nonsense. The association was big enough to make any changes

ROSE LECTURE.

Garden Club Appreciated Mr. Harrington's Talk.

The Ulster Garden Club prefaced its regular meeting on Tuesday with a public lecture on "Roses, their Cultivation and Protection," given at the Orpheum Theatre, Saugerties, by Mr. Harrington of New York. The lecture was both very interesting and practical, the speaker beginning with a talk about the different kind of roses for garden growing. He noted the development of the rambler roses, and called attention to the fact that fifteen or twenty years ago there were no such roses known. The so called "Baby Ramblers" and "American Pillar" roses also came in for their share of attention. Many valuable points on the cultivation of roses, and the protection of the roses from their various enemies were given. After the lecture, Mr. Harrington showed some exquisite colored slides of roses and rose gardens, both here in this vicinity and in the west. Some of the Portland, Oregon, pictures were especially beautiful, as might be expected from the "Rose State."

At the close of the greatly appreciated lecture, the members of the Garden Club adjourned to the home of Mrs. Clarke Reed where tea and Mrs. Reed's beautiful garden were greatly enjoyed.

TO CALL OFF N.Y. HARBOR STRIKE

Say Union Leaders—Southern Men to Stay Out—Garment Workers and Steel Workers Causing Trouble.

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

Montreal, June 16.—The New York harbor and transportation strike which has cost many millions and crippled traffic in America's foremost port, will be called off by President T. V. O'Connor, of the International Longshoremen's Union, it was declared yesterday by officials of that union who are attending the American Federation of Labor convention. These officials said that the strike would be called off regardless of the results of the referendum which has been conducted by the strikers on the question of whether the tieup shall continue.

O. A. Anderson, president of the International Longshoremen's Union of Galveston, Texas, took issue with reports that O'Connor is to call off the marine strike.

"O'Connor cannot call off the longshoremen's strike on the South Atlantic coast and the Gulf of Mexico," declared Anderson. "I have refused to recall off our men in Texas. We are out to win. The striking longshoremen are going to fight it out to a finish all the way from Mexico to Canada."

Anderson asked for the moral and financial suport of the American Federation of Labor.

He charged the government of Texas with assisting financial elements to break the strike.

After Anderson's long and impassioned speech, the Federation adopted a second resolution to give the longshoremen and transportation strikers the full assistance of the Federation in their fight against the open shop.

The International Ladies' Garment Makers' Union added to the troubles of the Federation officials today when the executive board announced that it had appointed a committee to confer with the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America on plans for an international federation of needle trades. This action is regarded as the first step towards severance of relations with the A. F. of L. by the International Ladies' Garment Makers.

The fight between the Amalgamated Association of Sheet Iron and Tin Workers and the national executive committe over the recent steel strike was confined to the national executive council, but leaders threatened to bring the battle to the floor of the convention. It is regarded as a foregone conclusion that John Fitzpatrick one of the chief leaders of the steel strike, will be forced from the committee.

The tailors and other needle trades in the Federation, with the exception of the United Garment Makers of America are expected to follow the action of the International Ladies' Garment Makers' Union.

A movement to depose Daniel J. Tobin, of Indianapolis, who is a candidate for reelection as treasurer of the Federation and member of the executive council, has developed among the insurgent faction that is opposing Gompers.

The 30x3-, 30x3½-, and 31x4-inch sizes of Goodyear Tires are built to afford a money's worth in performance and satisfaction which only the utmost in experience, resources and care can produce.

This extraordinary money's worth begins not only with the merit of these tires, but also with the first cost, which in most cases is no greater, and sometimes actually is less, than that of other makes of the same types of tires.

Go to the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer for Goodyear Tires for your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other cars taking these sizes. He is ready to supply you Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes at the same time.

30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $21.50

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Easton, Md., June 16.—Armed posses are searching the country surrounding here and a determined man hunt is on today for Isaiah Fountain, a negro, sentenced to death for criminal assault on Bertha Simpson, a 13 year old white girl, who escaped from the death cell of the jail here.

After the meeting an informal reception was held and refreshments served. There was a large delegation from the Marlborough and Highland churches.

Last Monday evening a joint meeting of school district 1, 2 and 6 was held in the Community House. The purpose of the meeting was for the taxpayers to voice their opinion in consolidating the above named school districts and building a graded grammar school. Every taxpayer should be interested in this matter. The sentiment regarding the new school matter seems to be equally divided. Many at this time do not see the advisability of additional tax burdens in view of the prospect of heavier state taxes and expenses that are prospects for the coming year.

Several state police have been sent to this town with headquarters at Marlborough. It is understood they will co-operate with truant officers in enforcing the truancy law. There are very much needed in our village to enforce the law regarding automobile speeding. THE NEWSPAPER.

Just now the most valued possession of any American citizen is his newspaper. It has always been the medium through which he obtained information which kept him alive to the signs of the times. Progress would have been utterly impossible without it, and were anything to occur which would prevent the daily or weekly issue, darkness would set in until the press turned and the paper was placed within hand's reach.

Now, when there is mental unrest, the newspaper is more important than ever. This is a history-making period, and the suggestions of the day which will have control over the future are printed daily for the consideration of newspaper readers. This permits the reader to take part in the shaping of future affairs because there is not one single thing to stop him from offering a word of advice that may be of value as a contribution in the big plan of adjustment.

During the campaign which is under way the newspaper will print the views of those who will have much to do with adjusting problems, so that eventually there will be a return to the comforts which all law-abiding citizens seek. The newspaper will play its part, and its part will be big. It will bring to attention those things that should be known. It will oppose those things which it believes will be injurious, and it will support those things which it thinks will be helpful. You may not agree always, but in the news columns it will give you the facts so that you can think your own editorial even if you do not write.

The candidates who have been nominated, or who will be, by the two political parties, will be men capable of discussing the issues so that they will be understandable and so that you will know by reading your newspaper just what is in the making, and if you do not it will be your fault. In this respect there never was an hour in the history of the world when a newspaper had more value than right now. These will be mentioned as stirring times in years to come, and what is being done today will regulate the conduct of your son tomorrow. Thus the newspaper, which has always been an educator, is today unquestionably more than ever the greatest of all educational influences.

TRUE BLUE AMERICAN.

The genuine American is such without conscious inquiry into his own qualifications. His son grows up in a familiar atmosphere which does not enable him to observe genuine Americanism as sharply defined against a background of foreign ideals and custom. Doubtless this accounts for the interesting fact that Isadore Goldenbaum, a boy born in old Jerusalem under the rule of the Turks, has produced a better definition of a real American citizen than any of his thousands of native-born mates in the lower schools of New York. Lieut.-Col. Theodore Roosevelt, judge in the prize essay contest conducted by the Rotary Club, has given the award to Isadore's definition, which he says even learned grown-ups could not improve on. And, so far as understanding of true essentials is concerned, it will be widely agreed that the Colonel is right, for Isadore wrote:

"Mr. William Edwards, our next door neighbor, is, I think, a most ideal American citizen. Every time I see him it sets me to thinking hard. He is a tall, hardy, muscular man and very healthy indeed. He is in business for himself, and he deals very justly and wisely in his transactions with other men. Although very considerate, he has that strong Yankee trait of true, fair business. He never raises prices on his goods when unnecessary, as other men do. He pays his taxes on time and he pays the right amount, too. He closes up his place at eve full of pep and joy of living and going and having a favorable day. He is a sober, law-abiding and law-serving citizen. When election comes he votes, not as his party boss dictate, but as his own reason and sound judgment direct. If he meets with any adversity he doesn't grumble or grumble, for he is a good sport. He never fails for any anarchist stuff. He is a true blue American!"

Get All the Heat out of your Coal

Save Coal Sensibly

A live, clean, clinker-free fire—the sure result of the exclusive Boynton Square Pot construction—takes all the heat there is in the coal and sends it into your rooms. That's economy and good judgment.

You can cut down the amount of coal you burn in your present equipment by using less heat, but you won't find much pleasure in the saving.

It's better—much better—to have all the comfort of warmth by installing a Boynton Square Pot Furnace or Boiler. Though very easy on the coal pile (saving 15% to 25%) it protects you from the misery of indoor shivering.

See the Boynton Furnaces and Boilers at your dealer's, and the Newport Range as well. Or consult us by mail.

"WARS" RAGE DESPITE LEAGUE

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

London, June 16.—While the council of the league of nations is striving to safeguard Persia from the Russian bolsheviki, who have already invaded the country, several other "wars" of various size and importance are in progress today in Europe and Asia.

The most important of these conflicts is that raging between the Russians and the Poles.

General Wrangel has taken the place of General Denekine in southern Russia and is making war against the bolsheviki in that quarter. Beginning his campaign in Crimea, General Wrangel's forces have now fought their way northward to the Dneiper River, occupying territory about twice the size of Crimea in extent.

Turkish rebels in Anatolia, who are conducting guerilla warfare against the allies, are attacking the French near Heraclia, in Anatolia.

Greek troops and Turkish rebels are at grips in Thrace. Greek forces, supported with machine guns, attacked and dispersed a Turkish band near Kulegili-Burgas. Proclamations have been issued by the Greek army of occupation in Thrace threatening instant death to all Turkish rebels who are captured.

Albanian Nationalists are on the warpath against the Italians. According to Rome advices, quoting the Epoca, the Albanians are massing for another big attack against the Italian army of occupation in Albania.

Twilight Rowing is Fad.

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

New London, Conn., June 16.—Twilight rowing has become the fad with Coaches Haines and Nicholls of the Harvard and Yale crews. Tuesday the rival crews did not take to the Thames until after 7 o'clock and today's practice spins were scheduled for that hour. The intense heat caused both coaches to keep crews ashore until a late hour.

NEW MEXICAN REVOLT POSSIBLE

Calles's Policy of Cutting Army In Half Would Make Banditry And Lawlessness Easy For Men Whose Years of Army Life Has Unfitted For Other Pursuits.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Laredo, Texas, June 16.—Mexico is threatened with another revolution in the near future as a result of the contemplated action of General P. Elias Calles, minister of war and marine, to cut the Mexican army down one half, according to travelers reaching the border from Mexico City today.

Considerable adverse comment is heard in Mexico City, especially among army officers who already have been discharged. It is pointed out that these men who have been soldiers for the past ten years are unfitted for other kinds of work and are in danger of becoming dependents.

Common soldiers who have become used to the free life of the army, protest that they will not heed the manifesto urging them to return to work on the ranches and in mines. Some of the bolder spirits declare that they are ready to follow any dissatisfied leaders who may undertake an enterprise against the government.

If another revolution should occur and the government should be attacked by an army of trained ex-soldiers, it may be necessary for the Mexican government to seek outside aid, it is said by officials in Mexico City.

These same officials were quoted as saying it would be necessary for Mexico to import arms, from the United States if possible, and that the closest cooperation would be necessary between the Mexican government and the United States government to bring lasting peace to the southern republic.

Carpentier Bout in Fall.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 16.—According to Danny Morgan, manager of Battling Levinsky, the scheduled bout between Levinsky and Georges Carpentier will not be held before next November. Morgan declares that Francois Descamps, manager of the French champion, has informed him that Carpentier will return to France early next month and remain until September, when he will start training for Levinsky.

What a lot of argument there used to be about a woman driving an automobile

TODAY she can "make a train" or fix a tire as well as anybody.

As soon as a luxury becomes a necessity the point of view changes.

II

Two or three years ago you would have listened to more varying opinions about tires than you could shake a stick at. Mileages, construction, treads and whatnot.

It's different now. Tire users are working towards a unanimous feeling.

You express it one way—the man down the street another. But sifted down it amounts to this:

That the only way to settle your tire problem is to get a tire of known value and stick to it.

III

There's no guess about it.

It was the U. S. quality policy which led to the perfection of the straight-side automobile tire, the pneumatic truck tire—two of the greatest additions to tire value that have ever been made.

As representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world, we are in a position to tell you something about tire values. Come in some day and talk to us.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

ROYAL CORD-NOBBY-CHAIN-USCO-PLAIN

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cords.

GENERAL WARNS OF BIGGEST WAR

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

London, June 16.—The war-cat is out of the bag again.

Sir Henry Wilson, field marshal in the British army and director-general of operations at the British war office, says:

"We have been told that we went into the last war to end war. We did not: we went into it to save our skins.

"We were told that after the recent war we were to have peace, but we have not got it. There are at present between twenty and thirty wars going on.

"We were told that the war was to end war, but it was not; it did not and it could not."

Addressing the officers of the various British army services at the Union Jack Club, Field Marshal Wilson said:

"I hope you men, to whatever branch of the service you belong, will do all you can to keep fit and ready for the time that is coming. Except in August, 1914, our country and our Empire have never wanted you more. We are living in ticklish and dangerous times, and our command on sea, on land and in the air is being challenged in various parts of the world.

"I hope you will carry this—warning if you like—away with you from a very old soldier who knows what he is talking about."

Sir Henry's statement, cool and calculated, has aroused considerable debate. The Westminster Gazette hails it as highly courageous declaration of truth which many British politicians have sought to hide. A member of parliament who sought further enlightenment on the question, being particularly concerned as to what power Britain would fight next—Russia or the United States—got no satisfaction.

ON WAY TO FIRE.

Two Pictures Recall Pre-motor Days to Old Firemen.

Two pictures in the windows of Cohen's store on Wall street attract considerable attention from passing pedestrians. The two pictures which were loaded by Charles J. Mullen show firemen of the old days rushing to a fire. One picture, "Cut Her Loose, Boys," shows an old hand engine drawn by gallant fire laddies arriving at a fire. The other shows an engine and water tower drawn by three horse teams arriving at a fire. Although the younger generation recalls only the throbbing motor truck rushing to a fire, the two old time pictures bring back memories to the older fire fighters who are in town attending firemen's convention.

First Sleeping Car.

A sleeping car was put into service on the Cumberland Valley railroad (now a part of the Pennsylvania railroad system) in 1836 or 1837, but was abandoned in 1848.

NORTHUMBERLAND ON IRISH CRISIS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, June 16.—"The longer the Irish rebellion remains unsubdued, the more will American political parties make capital out of it. American interferance is a real danger."

This declaration was made today by the Duke of Northumberland, one of the biggest owners of coal bearing land in Great Britain, an ardent imperialist, and a keen student of British politics. His views may be regarded as representative of those of the British nobility. He continued:

"The complete loss of Ireland in this crisis can be prevented only by some 1,000,000 loyalists of the north (Ulster province) and we seem to be doing our best to estrange them. The north of Ireland may very shortly become our sole base for military operations.

"The strategic position of Ireland in regard to Great Britain is precisely the same as the strategic position of Great Britain in regard to northern Europe.

"Owing to the geographical position of these islands, lying as they do, across the sea routes which lead to the Atlantic from northern France, Holland, Germany, Scandinavia and northern Russia, the commerce of these countries is at our mercy.

"That is why we have had to fight, in the past, Holland, France and Germany for supremacy of the sea. It is that geographical position which is responsible for the formation of our empire, for our immense influence on the history of the world, and the fact that our intervention in a European war has always proved decisive.

"Every disadvantage which northern Europe suffers from the geographical position of these islands, Great Britain would suffer from the position of Ireland, were it in other hands than our own. It lies across our means of egress into the Atlantic.

"I think it would be advisable to drop the present home rule bill and restore order in Ireland at once."

The sale price of taffeta that was $3.75 should also have been quoted at $2.50 while the crepe meteor that sold for $4.50 should have been quoted for the sale at $3.

WHO KNOWS OF LEVINA NEWKIRK?

Who knows of the whereabouts of Levina Newkirk or her father, Charles M. Newkirk?

The Freeman has been asked by a woman in New York giving her name as Mrs. Howard to endeavor to locate either Levina or her father through its columns. A few days ago Mrs. Howard inserted a want ad in The Freeman asking for information concerning the address of the Newkirks.

Charles M. Newkirk was at one time motion picture operator at the Bijou Theater on Wall street, which was destroyed by fire several years ago. He also engaged in the occupation of painting signs and show cards. His daughter, Levina, it is believed, has been married, as Levina Cadieux was also given as her name.

The last heard of Charles Newkirk he was in Reading, Pa., working as a sign painter. If anyone has information as to his present address they may communicate with Mrs. Howard at 229 and 231 West 97th street, New York. When in Kingston the Newkirks resided at 2 Thomas street.

The comptroller shall forthwith prepare and publish definitions of the classification of expense by titles employed in this act, defining the purposes for which moneys appropriated under each may be expended. The comptroller shall have the power to amend such definitions from time to time as in his judgment becomes necessary for the proper conduct of the fiscal affairs of the state. The definitions as published by the comptroller, and as amended, shall govern expenditures from these appropriations and the audit of claim and accounts by the comptroller where said classifications are used in this act.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

PRES. IRWIN'S ANNUAL ADDRESS

Mahon Ruled, Philip Talk to Firemen at Tuesday Afternoon's Session—Coughlin Talks on Americanism—Chief Higham Has Brought Eight Companies In—Territory Extended—Dunne Would Prohibit Re-elections.

The intense heat and the prospect of a hot contest over the election of a director combined Tuesday afternoon to keep cool the temper of delegates attending the thirty-first annual convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, with the result that only by the utmost diplomacy was President Roscoe Irwin enabled to keep the convention session busy for an hour and a half; whenever it looked as though the convention would take an adjournment he had something to suggest. Incidentally, he made a president's address that for brevity on a hot day was highly commendable

After several band selections by the Citizens' Band, under the leadership of Harry Maisenheider, President Irwin announced a new rule, which was that members arising to speak must first give their name, company membership and residence, upon being recognized by the chair, before making any motion or remarks, the rule being intended to minimize mistakes and aid the stenographer who was keeping the record.

The Association's Membership.

The committee on credentials reported that the number of enrolled delegates was 342; number of old companies, 77; number of new companies, 25; number of new chief engineers, 3. On motion of Delegate Buckley of Mt. Vernon, the report was accepted and the committee continued until today.

On motion of Henry E. McKenzie of Fort Ewen, the proceedings of the last convention were approved as printed, without being read.

President's Annual Address.

President Irwin said that his talk was called "The President's Annual Address," but he did not know why it was so designated because it had nothing to do with the president of the association, as long as he had been a member, but merely recited what others had done. The association had just closed a most gratifying and successful year, but the success had nothing to do with any work he had done, but was due entirely to the efforts of the president of the board of directors, the efficient secretary and Chief Higham, of the Middletown fire department, through whose unaided and individual efforts nine new companies had been brought in If in any way the convention could show its appreciation of Chief Higham's efforts, it should do so in order that everyone might see that the association did appreciate loyalty and earnest effort.

The association, he said, now consists of 142 companies, 863 members. Five members have been dropped, three companies have disbanded, three members have resigned and life's evensong had chimed for six. There was a net gain for the year of 6 companies and 44 members. During the last year, when there had been a general slackening of interest in all fields of endeavor, especially in fraternal organizations, where membership had fallen off perceptibly, this record spoke well of interest in firemanic matters.

We are now passing through a critical stage, he said, due to the delay in declaring peace and to unsettled industrial and political and general economic conditions, and taking these conditions also into consideration the result of the year's work should be especially gratifying. (Applause.)

Mr. Coughlin's Address.

The committee on topics and essays, he announced had selected a young man to deliver a talk on "Americanism," which he was sure would prove a treat. Kingston was not only deeply interested in firemanic matters but had produced more orators and statesmen than any other city of its size in the world, and the committee has asked a product of our own community to speak on a subject which ought to be preached on the highways and byways for many days to come, for it would be only by preaching and practicing it that we can counteract the sinister influences and unrest which are at work today. The speaker was Thomas Coughlin of Kingston, the subject, "Americanism."

Mr. Coughlin, after speaking of the honor conferred on him in extending an invitation to address such a representative body of citizens, said he came in an humble manner, realizing his limitations. The crying need in America today is good citizenship. In the past we have had hundreds of issues, but they have grown into one great issue—Americanism. Americanism is not something new, but it is the spirit of our forefathers who established this republic, the spirit of Washington and Lincoln and the men who fought and died under them, and it was exemplified in the highest manner by the men and boys who in the past few years had given their all to uphold the principles of American citizenship and American liberty.

Americanism need not be defined to this association The fact that the delegates were volunteer firemen in itself shows that they are citizens of the highest type, but there are a few dangers we must guard against Men do not realize history until it is gone. We read of what men and nations did in early times, in the Middle Ages, but we are today witnessing the greatest transition and the one of the greatest accomplishment known to history Billions of treasure—treasure unknown—had been spent in our last war and men gave their lives willingly to establish principle of right It is for those who remain to hold on the principles then handed down

But meanwhile unrest has grown law, but will live each a law unto himself, regardless of the rights of others. No government that throws away restrictions on liberty can live. Our government was a great experiment, founded on principles different from those of any other government, and until now it has been successful, but its future rests with us. While we welcome all to our country, we must see that strangers who come to our shores bring allegiance to their new land, and if he comes here that he must accept responsibilities as well as receive benefits. If we will practice pure Americanism, we will have no fear for the achievement of the destiny of America, but she will go ahead as in the past, leading the entire world to a nobler and better life.

Mr. Coughlin's speech was received with enthusiastic applause, and Delegate Buckley of Mt. Vernon moved that a note of thanks be extended to him, which was seconded by Delegate Lenares of Saugerties, and carried.

Duty of Association Members.

W. H. Jenkins of Haverstraw said that after listening to the masterly address just delivered, he felt proud of his Americanism. He looked on this organization neither as a religious nor political organization, but as a manifestation of their appreciation of what true Americanism means he thought the members should renew their vows to Almighty God and their allegiance to their country and their flag which stands for the highest type of good government and citizenship. Our flag was one of which every citizen should feel proud; it afforded protection to every law-abiding citizen and in battle it never has trailed in the dust. He moved that the members pledge anew their allegiance to the flag, which was seconded by Delegate Buckley.

President Irwin suggested that as a fitting accompaniment to the unanimous vote, the members rise while the band played the Star Spangled Banner.

Praise for President Irwin.

Charles Rogers, who was the first president of the state Firemen's Association, and a firemen of forty-five years' standing, said there were many new faces among the delegates, but he wished to pay his respects to the first president of the Hudson Valley Association Charles Irwin, and especially to President Irwin who had been the modest in saying that he was not instrumental in accomplishing the successful year's work just concluded. It was a pleasure always to meet volunteer firemen. No class of men ever responded more quickly to the call for duty, and when the call came for volunteers in our last war there was no class which had responded more quickly than the volunteer firemen of the country. He hoped whoever should be chosen president would follow in the steps of the present modest president (Mr. Irwin), and with the same degree of success. (Applause.)

Conventions and Schools.

Wright Mains of this city suggested that on account of the annual convention of the Association being held at the same time each year that Regents examinations were being conducted in the high schools of the state, it might be a good plan to make the date of the annual convention and parade later in the month—probably the week following the examinations. Wherever the convention was held, there was always the same complaint, that the parade interfered with the school examinations.

President Irwin said that the best plan would be to amend section 1 of article 5 of the by-laws, unless it was understood that the parade should be held at another time than the convention.

Mr. Mains offered an amendment to the by-laws making the convention and parade date later in the month, which was referred to the committee on resolutions

Would Prohibit Re-elections.

Lawrence Dunne of this city asked whether the report of the committee on resolutions would be debatable on the floor of the convention

President Irwin replied that the report could be debated but must be adopted or rejected; it could not be changed Inasmuch as the resolutions committee would meet a public meeting at the Stuyvesant Hotel on Tuesday evening, all resolutions must be presented unless by unanimous consent they were allowed to be taken up at Wednesday's session.

Mr. Dunne called attention to the fact that he had given a resolution to the secretary, and asked that it be read.

Under Mr. Dunne's resolution article 2 of the by-laws would have a new section (7) added, which would provide that no member of the association should be elected as president, vice president, second vice president, director or treasurer to succeed himself.

The resolution was referred to the committee on resolutions.

To Enlarge Territory.

G. J. Sweet of Channelville said that the association had grown wonderfully and was continuing to grow, but in following the course of the Hudson river, after which it was named, it was found that while the Hudson passed through Washington and Warren counties, neither of these counties belonged to the association North had large towns whose firemen looked on the pioneer membership with heightened eyes and undoubtedly they would join if properly asked. He moved that the directors be requested to extend the territory of the association so as to include Washington and Warren counties, which was carried.

Meeting by the States.

Samuel Fowler of Rensselaer asked whether it would be necessary for any resolution introduced at today's session should be over for one year.

Mr. Buckley of Mt. Vernon said the intention had been to require all resolutions to be passed on by the committee on resolutions after a public hearing, in order to keep the convention clear for other important matters that might arise.

William H Kelts of this city said this seemed unfair to delegates who did not attend the first day's session and might create hard feeling.

President Irwin said that all delegates received a copy of the printed proceedings and therefore knew the date of the convention. If one rule was made for early comers and another rule for late comers, there would be no attendance to speak of at the first day's session. It would be better to abide by the rules, which every member thoroughly understood.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Father Murphy and the convention adjourned until 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Joseph Bowne Elwell wealthy turfman and a favorite in New York and Newport social circles, who was the victim of one of the most mysterious tragedies in the history of New York. Mrs. Walter Lewisohn prominent society woman, and her sister, Viola Kraus, were the last to see the noted turfman alive. Mr. Elwell was a member of a party, including Mr. and Mrs. Lewisohn and Mrs. Kraus, who was formerly the wife of Victor von Schlegell. They drove the clubman to his home a little after midnight. At 8:30 the following morning he was found, clothed in pajamas, shot through the head, in the reception room of his beautiful home on West Seventieth street. He died later. The police have scouted a suicide theory because no revolver was found.

Peculiar Will Upheld.

An elderly Frenchman was found dead in his house at Doumely in the Ardennes. A search among his papers failed to reveal any will until, under his bed, a piece of sheetiron was discovered, with these words written on it in white chalk: "I bequeath all my property to the borough of Ardennes on condition that the mayor gives £12 to the local fire brigade for a beaufest. (Signed) ——." The relatives disputed this queer and very brief will, but the local court decided that it was valid.

Enlarged Picture Best.

If you want to get a large photograph of any object, take a small clean-cut picture and enlarge it. The result will be much better than when a large picture is taken directly by placing the camera close to the object.

Queen Esther Entertainment.

The entertainment given on Tuesday evening by the Queen Esther Circle of St. James's Church was one of unusual interest and impressiveness. Each number of the program was enthusiastically received. The sketch by some of the members, representing a chat in a college room, was particularly good, while the pantomime, with its many poses, was so impressive that the pastor at once requested that it be repeated at a Sunday night service in the near future, which but expressed the sentiments of all who saw it. It was remarkable fine. A delightful social time followed the rendering of the program. The "surprise" sprung was a huge birthday cake with forty candles all alight, indicating the fortieth anniversary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church. Although not it was a delightful affair, the program being one of unique merit.

Senior Class Must Lead.

Those who intend to go on the senior class float lead on Friday evening are requested to be at the high school by 7 o'clock at the latest. The lead will leave for the Grange Hall, Lake Katrine, promptly at this time. All students of the high school are invited to attend.

Two taps of the fire alarm will be sounded at 2 o'clock when all of the companies are to be in line ready to march. Few Schoonmaker's Histories.

It will doubtless interest many Kingstonians as well as the visitors during "Old Home Week" to learn that there are still a few copies of that most interesting work, "Marius Schoonmaker's History of Kingston," which may be purchased. This history is remarkably interesting as well as authentic, and is in many ways a good genealogy of older Kingston families. The books are for sale by Mr. Schoonmaker's daughter, Mrs. Ella Schoonmaker Darrow, whose address is 352 Main street, Saugerties. Any one unfamiliar with the history may see a copy of the same at the Kingston City Library.

Hasbrouck, to hear the evidence with a jury, did not come up, as Commissioner Gill was notified that an agreement had been made to settle the matter mutually, as was stated in The Freeman on Tuesday.

Senior Dance Wednesday.

The senior class cordially invites the members of the junior class to attend the senior dance on Wednesday evening, June 23rd at the high school gymnasium, at 8 o'clock. Good music will be furnished for dancing and a royal time is promised to the juniors by their hosts, the seniors.

Town of Historic Interest.

While the name, Neversink, calls to mind that this place is the home of the state institution for the insane, it is also well to remember that it is historically interesting. Here can be seen the old Sanders' ford of the Schuylkill river, where American and British armies crossed many times during the Revolution. The Main street is located the home of Governor Hartranft, Pennsylvania's war governor, established in 1836 and famous during the Revolutionary war and on this same ground once located the home of General Hancock, of Civil war fame.—Philadelphia Record.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Hoff-Bartholomew.

Edward H. Hoff, Jr., of this city and Miss Eva M. Bartholomew of Meriden, Conn., were united in marriage at Meriden on May 19, by the Rev. Francis S. Lappitt.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, June 15.—On Tuesday, June 8, Miss Mary Hall, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Mercer Hall, graduated from Miss Beard's school in Orange, New Jersey. Miss Hall has been a student at this school during the past five years and at the time of her graduation was president of her class, editor-in-chief of the school magazine and the chief councillor of the student government. Surely Miss Hall merits congratualtions for the high honors which she has attained. Her grandfather, Judge Alton B. Parker, delivered the address at the gaduation exercises.

Helen Lund, Marie O'Reilly, Kenneth Best and August Reckseigle went to Port Ewen on Monday for Regents examination in English.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Freer have the sympathy of neighbors and friends in the loss of their little son aged two years who died after an illness of three weeks of pneumonia. The funeral service was held at the home of the parents at West Esopus on Saturday afternoon last. Besides the parents the little one is survived by two brothers and one sister.

Miss Alice Hines, daughter of General Hines of the U. S. Army, Fort Dodge, Iowa, is a guest of Miss Mary Hall at Rosemount.

Eleanor, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hasbrouck Freer, reached her third birthday on Friday, June 4. The event was duly celebrated by a typical "birthday" feast. Two birthday cakes with pretty decorations and three lighted candles on each was one of the features which especially delighted Miss Eleanor.

Hilda Catherine, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Scheid, was baptized at the Catholic Church in this village on Sunday morning last.

Rev. George E. Wright will continue his talk on the Holy Spirit, at the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening of this week. Service begins promptly at 8 o'clock (new time). Every one cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. Alfred Terpening has returned to her home in this village after spending some days in Kingston and visiting her husband in the hospital there. Mr. Terpening is about the same so far. The auto trip to the hospital tired him considerably but he is recuperating from the fatigue of the journey and all hope to hear of his improvement in the near future.

The village school closed on Friday, June 11, for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Mott with their daughter, Miss Hazel and son, S. E. Mott, Jr., motored to Red Hook, Dutchess county, to spend the day at Maple Crest farm the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Fraleigh former residents of Esopus. Miss Hazel and brother remained at the farm and will not return to Esopus until Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Fred Martin and niece, Miss Thelma Drake, went to Linden, New Jersey, on Saturday last for a week's visit with Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Drake. They will also visit Mrs. Martin's brothers, Charles, George and Howard, who with their families reside in Linden.

The large garage being erected for Percy M. Mott is now receiving the outside coating of stucco. The concrete floors are finished and in a few weeks the building will be completed. The ice cream parlor of Mrs. Leslie Mott adjoining the garage also has the stucco facing and presents a neat appearance. The room is also fitted with electric light and Mrs. Mott is doing a thriving business during these warm days and evenings.

Andrew Eckert spent the week end in Kingston. On Saturday evening he attended the carnival there and Sunday morning the Children's Day exercises at St. James's Methodist Church.

Clyde Beau of New York city was a guest of Herbert Cole last week.

Quite an excitement was created at about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon when a large touring car ran over an Airedale dog belonging to Mrs. Elmer Lund. The dog's back was broken and it was pitiable to hear his cries of suffering. After a few moments he became quiet and it was found he could not move and some men placed him upon a blanket and carried him into the yard where he was put out of his misery by a single shot. It is worth something to know just where to aim when it becomes necessary to do an act of mercy like that in order not to prolong the suffering. The car which caused the accident rushed on at full speed never pausing to investigate the injury done.

Daniel Linden was home from Brooklyn for the week end. Friends of Mrs. Linden will be glad to learn that she is getting along nicely.

Miss Lauretta Ellwanger and some young friends, enjoyed an over Sunday visit with her parents and other relatives in the village.

Mrs. Alexander Smith took an automobile load of friends to the Port Ewen Methodist Church Sunday morning to attend the interesting Children's Day service held at 11 o'clock.

Charles Ackerman is in Newburgh paying an extended visit to his daughter, Mrs. L. C. Gunn.

It is hoped that every one who has fine cut peonies or flowers will bring them to the Methodist Church on Saturday next as early in the afternoon as convenient. And also, everyone who possibly can do so, is invited to assist in decorating the church during the afternoon of that day. On Sunday morning the pastor, Dr. George E. Wright, will preach in the church at 11 o'clock and there will not be any service in the afternoon. Children's Day will be celebrated in the evening at 7:45 o'clock, new time. Everybody invited.

A rehearsal of the musical part of the Children's Day program was held in the M. E. Church Tuesday evening.

Mrs. O. E. McLain was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. William J. McLain on Sunday.

Charles C. Beaver of Port Ewen was present at the Sunday afternoon service in the Methodist Church. Mr. Beaver's old neighbors and friends are always glad to welcome him to Esopus.

Mrs. Bishop and daughter, who is president of the Port Ewen Epworth League, accompanied Dr. and Mrs. Wright to the church service Sunday afternoon.

Watch Your Weight.

Medical men all agree that in a great number of cases it would be of valuable assistance to them if patients could produce a weight record when going for advice; often it is impossible for a diagnosis to be given until a patient has tested his or her weight for a certain length of time.

GEORGE J. SWEET NEW PRESIDENT

it saw fit and if it wasn't, it ought to quit. The best thing for the organization was to keep in office the men who produce the goods for the organization.

Power Lies With Delegates.

Delegate Kelly of Yonkers protested against the resolution which would prevent good men from continuing in office. If an officer didn't perform his work well but was continued, it was the fault of the delegates. If there was a clique, it should be put out and if gag rule was attempted, everyone should rise and put the gagger out. If a new treasurer was to be elected every year, "you'll have a hell of a time watching him," said Kelly. In matters of right, Yonkers, the biggest city, would stand by the smallest hamlet.

Dunne Resolution Defeated.

On the vote of the Dunne resolution, the tellers were again not required to count the votes because almost everybody in the hall voted against it. Mr. Kelly thanked the convention for its intelligence and President Irwin thanked Kelly for his.

Changing Time of Meeting.

The resolution by Wright Mains to change the time of meeting seesawed back and forth from the first to the fourth week of June, with various suggestions. Alderman Martin said the high school auditorium could be obtained for a convention the fourth week of June, when school would be closed, and Charles Partlan of this city suggested that if the change was to be made for the benefit of the school children, to allow them to witness the parade without interference with school work or examinations, the convention ought to make it a 100 per cent school matter and meet the fourth week, after school is closed. The resolution fixing the fourth week of June for conventions was unanimously adopted.

Resolutions Thank Everybody.

Henry E. McKenzie of the resolutions committee submitted a separate memorial extending thanks to everyone who has contributed to the success of the convention, which was unanimously adopted.

Reports Submitted.

The committee on credentials submitted a final report showing 454 members paid, 100 delegates of old companies, 25 delegates of new companies, 3 new chief engineers, a total of 582. Adopted.

The board of directors submitted a report of its meetings, at one of which Mr. Kolts had been appointed a committee of one to see that Alderman William B. Martin appear before the convention and explain the failure to issue the volume of printed proceedings. Adopted.

John P. Fowler submitted a report of money received for the Firemen's Home at Hudson. The amount received last year from the counties covered by the association was $5,985.75, and this year was $6,106, an increase of $120.85. A few towns had not reported yet. The 2 per cent tax on foreign insurance companies would show an increase of $1,500, the New York city increase would be $3,155.73, and the increase outside Greater New York would be about $600. The estimated value of the Home at Hudson, with 185 acres of farm, was $345,000, and bonds purchased amounted to $610,000, a total investment of $955,500. During the past year, government bonds amounting to $60,000 had been bought for $47,000. Detrimental legislation had failed to pass.

Secretary Christian W. Nolls reported 142 companies on the rolls, with 843 members, 18 new delegates, 26 applications and 2 applications from new chiefs. Adopted.

Out of respect to deceased members the convention stood for one minute with heads bowed.

Poughkeepsie Chosen.

Thomas F. Mullen of Cataract Steamer, Poughkeepsie, denied that the Bridge City would ever give up its volunteer department for a paid department and urged Poughkeepsie as the next convention city. He read letters of invitation from the Chamber of Commerce and Mayor Ralph Butts. A motion to meet in Poughkeepsie was carried unanimously.

The auditing committee reported that the secretary's and treasurer's books were correct, although Henry E. McKenzie thought it would be more intelligent if the treasurer's report was first read.

Treasurer Andrew J. Murphy reported receipts of $923.33; expenditures of $655.78, and balance of $267.55. Adopted.

Officers Elected.

Nominating speeches were eulogistic of the candidates. There were no contests and the officers elected were:

President, George J. Sweet, West Coxsackie.
First Vice President, Charles Buckley, Mt. Vernon.
Second Vice President, Charles J. Higham, Middletown.
Secretary, Christian W. Noll, Poughkeepsie.
Treasurer, Andrew J. Murphy, Kingston.
Director, Roscoe Irwin, Kingston.

Orange, William Burke, Cornwall.
Putnam (Delegate absent).
Rensselaer, Edward Cinnaman, Rensselaer.
Rockland, William H. Jenkins, Haverstraw.
Saratoga, (Delegates absent.)
Sullivan, (Delegates absent.)
Ulster county presented two names. Ernest Hassinger of Saugerties named William B. McCormick of Saugerties, Frank P. Quigley named William H. Pratt of Kingston. President Irwin said county delegates had been notified to agree on vice-presidents and Ulster's delegates must meet together afterward.
Westchester, Dennis Carroll, Yonkers.

After prayer by the Rev. John H. Briody of St. Joseph's Church, the convention adjourned sine die.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 16.—There was an improved tone to the dealings on the stock market at the opening today, initial prices showing upturns ranging from fractions to over 7 points. Business continued light. Barratt Company was prominent, running up quickly 7½ points to 119. Crucible Steel rose 3⅛ to 148½ and Vanadium Steel 2½. Steel Common at 93¼ and Baldwin at 117⅝, showed fractional improvement. There was little doing in the oil, motor or railroad groups. Pan-American Petroleum rose ⅝ to 103; Royal Dutch 1½ to 118¼; Studebaker ⅞ to 69⅝ and Southern Pacific ¾ to 91¾.

There was more outside interest to the trading on the stock exchange during the forenoon. Many of the specialties and leading issues were in demand at advancing prices. The steel issues all rose about 1 point. The sugar stocks were up from 1 to 2 points and some of the railroad issues were in demand.

The market closed steady; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Mrs. Jacob Myers of 71 Garden street, died today at noon. Funeral notice will be made later.

The funeral of the late Calvin Short was held at his late residence, Elm street, Saugerties, Wednesday afternoon. Interment was in the burial plot at Woodstock.

The funeral of the late John DuBois, who died suddenly at his home on West Bridge street, Saugerties, on Saturday night, was held at his late home Wednesday afternoon. Rev. H. C. Egnor of the Lutheran Church officiated. Interment was in Mountain View cemetery.

Charles Keator formerly of Kingston died at his home in Woodcliffe, N. J., June 13. He is survived by his wife, Ida Hotaling, and two daughters, Annie, wife of Charles Taylor of Hoboken, N. J., and Edith, wife of Robert Lawrence of Woodcliffe, N. J. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Louis J. Butzel, for many years a prominent business man of Saugerties, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Tillie Putzel, in Baltimore, Md., on Monday, June 14. A complication of diseases caused his death. Mr. Butzel continued the dry goods business on Partition street, Saugerties, up to a few years ago when ill health caused him to give it up. Deceased was a member of Ulster Lodge, No. 193, F. and A. M., William E. Raymond Lodge, No. 59, I. O. O. F., and Saugerties Council, No. 1,365, Royal Arcanum. He was also an exempt fireman and served as chief engineer of the department. Mr. Butzel was first vice-president of the Saugerties Savings Bank and a former member of the board of education. He is survived by one sister and one brother, Frank J. Butzel of New York city. Mr. Butzel was in his 74th year. The body was taken to Brooklyn and the funeral held in Salem Fields chapel, Cypress Hills cemetery, Wednesday.

Boiling Tar Causes Excitement.

The promptness of Kingston's fire department was illustrated this afternoon at 2 o'clock when a large pot in which roofing material was being melted, boiled over in front of Keeney's Theatre on Wall street. The hot tar was scattered over the gutter and roadway sending up a dense cloud of black smoke. An alarm was sounded from Box 94, and six companies responded in a few moments. In the meantime Walter Voight, manager at Kresge's, extinguished the burning material with the contents of a chemical tank. As might be expected a large crowd gathered.

Miss Johnson Back At Work.

Miss Sara A. Johnson of 133 Green street, stenographer and typist for Amos Van Etten, referee in bankruptcy and attorney at law, 260 Fair street, has resumed her position, having been incapacitated from work early in November, last year, by reason of a broken ankle sustained by being run down by an automobile on the Kingston-West Hurley highway in the town of Ulster, a short distance from the Higginsville bridge.

BEICHERT WANTS TO BE SECRETARY

J. Philip Beichert, secretary of the local committee, and a very energetic volunteer fireman in this city, has announced his candidacy for the secretaryship of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association at its next convention.

Mr. Beichert for a number of years has been active in firemanic affairs, particularly so in the upbuilding of the Hudson Valley Association. During the preparation for the convention being held here, he worked untiringly and unstintingly for its success. Because of his many efforts in behalf of the association it is altogether likely that this honor will be conferred upon him at the next convention, which will probably be in Poughkeepsie.

Going up the mountain to Shady, the rear axle of their car broke and it turned turtle twice, pinning the men under. Judge Malone of New York was a visitor in the place last week.

Mrs. William Hommel of Blue Mountain accompanied her husband, who works on the property of the Saugerties commission here, a couple of days last week and spent the time with relatives here.

Queer Idea of Beauty.

Beauty makes use of strange ways for adornment in some lands. Many Japanese women adopt the singular habit of gilding their teeth. In some portions of India part of the nails must be dyed black before a woman is thought beautiful. The Esquimau women paint the entire body in patches of red and black. In Greenland the women color the face blue and yellow.

The Black-Cap.

The black-cap, one of the songsters of England, sings a sweet, full, clear but short strain, and expresses a great variety of notes, surpassed only by the nightingale. Black-caps are most frequently found in orchards and gardens.

HURLEY.

Hurley, June 15.—Children's Day is, each year, a much anticipated event and each year it seems almost impossible that the exercises of that year could be surpassed. However the day this year was one of the most interesting, pleasing and enjoyable of such occasions. The little folk and even grown ups as well deserve great credit for a most praiseworthy celebration, while the audience was intensely interested in every feature of the program in which there was many a little touch that caused smiles of amusement. The platform was simply but beautifully decorated with flowers as befitting the time of year and the theme of the day, while the participants looked never prettier and more fascinating than on this day. The Rev. Mr. French, the new pastor, was present and enjoyed with us all the program offered, while his own address was most appropriate and fitting for the occasion, "The Voice of God Calling to Samuel" being his theme which he applied to the boys and girls of today. The termination of his remarks was a masterly stroke in leaving the impression on his hearers that he conveyed.

The ordination and installation of the newly called pastor, the Rev. Lawrence French, took place in the village church on the evening of June 14. This most impressive and interesting service has been looked forward to eagerly ever since Mr. French had accepted the call as minister of our church. There was a large audience not only from our village proper but from the surrounding districts. North Marbletown was especially represented, as might have been expected. The presence of Mr. French's mother and father as also that of his fiancee, Miss Dears, to whom he is to be married soon, gave a most sympathetic chord to the evening's services. The decorations were confined to the pulpit which had been beautifully adorned with fresh native flowers making a most effective setting for the service. The flower scheme was arranged by the ladies of the church in harmony with the character of the service. A large number of ministers of the classis were also present. The Rev. Mr. Dangremond of High Falls was moderator of the evening. The services were opened by the choir, giving that beautiful anthem, "Praise ye the Lord." This was followed by reading of the Scriptures, Ephesians last chapter, and the prayer by the Rev. Mr. Zabriskie of Kingston. The Rev. M. Clapp of New Paltz delivered the installation sermon, taking as his text the first verse of the fifth chapter of Jeremiah. The speaker referred to the fact that even in the days of Jeremiah, a man measuring up the high standard was scarcely to be found; there were but few outstanding men; yet God did find such, one at a time, all down through history. There are but few outstanding men today. What is demanded of such a man? He must have faith in God as creator also as a ruler with laws to be obeyed; he must have faith in himself, that God has called him to do the work as a minister, the calling of which he has undertaken. This is also true of those who have chosen any of the numerous vocations of life; this man must have also faith in his fellow man; the man of today must have faith in the common sense of his fellow man; he be a man of conviction also with its power and he must stand up for his convictions; the outstanding man must do his own thinking; must be responsible to himself, to himself alone; along religious lines the man must be filled with the spirit of Jesus Christ; he must be filled with the gospel of Jesus Christ, the hope of the world, and he must be filled with the love of Christ. We need such a man everywhere. Speaking to the Rev. Mr. French personally, he brought to him the greetings from the oldest church of the classis. The speaker closed with the wish that "you may be such a man" as above portrayed. After a short prayer, the Rev. Mr. Dangremond delivered an address in which he mentioned the fact that the church requirements had been followed; that the examination of the candidate developed nothing against him as a minister and as a consequence Mr. French, having acquiesced in every request to promote the work and welfare of the Reformed Church of America, was invested in the office of minister. Several clergymen, six in all, then placed hands on the head of the candidate as he knelt in front of the pulpit after which the moderator read the regulation admonitions of the church discipline, closing with "I declare you ordained." The members of the Hurley Church were then asked to rise and declare themselves faithful to the church and its minister; their affirmative answer established pastoral relations of the Rev. Lawrence H. French with the Hurley Church. He was then declared to the lawful pastor of the church and prayer was made to this effect. This closed this part of this most impressive service. The choir sang "Oh, Come Let us Sing" with solos by Messrs. Van Etten and Scott Smith. The Rev. Mr. Longworth of Stone Ridge was then introduced to give the charge to the pastor. This opportunity was doubly interesting from the fact that both men had been fellow students in college and seminary. The charge was all the more interesting as it summed up squarely the experiences of the speaker in his own parish. "We were fellow students together; we are now fellow ministers of God's word." The speaker referred to the fact that it was very hard to give original ideas in such a charge; you must know your people; you may be disappointed in some of them but this very fact will give you a better chance to minister to them. Second, a minister's work at times becomes monotonous; Sunday follows Sunday much oftener than Monday follows Monday or Tuesday follows Tuesday. Your chief work will not be grinding out sermons; you must realize that in your sermons you have golden opportunities for preaching to your people. Visitations among your people is a good adjunct in the work, and, thirdly, remember always your position—be a leader not only in the church but among the people. The charge to the congregation was given by the Rev. Mr. Seeley of Kingston. He referred to the personal relations between the previous speaker and Mr. French as a most interesting factor in the charge given by Mr. Langworth; for the same reason, he himself was peculiarly fitted to speak to the Hurley congregation on account of the personal relations existing between them for years. There has always been a warm feeling between them for years. There has has always been a warm feeling between the members of Hurley Church and those of the Fair Street Church. When you take into consideration the words of the litany, such a charge, which it was his privilege to give, seemed almost superfluous. A congregation has much responsibility toward its pastor. The Hurley Church is to be congratulated in securing a highly trained, consecrated man as a minister; respect him as a minister of the gospel; he comes with a deep sense of his divine calling; respect him as a man. Resent all unkindly criticism of your minister; be jealous of his reputation; be patient with him; respect him as a student; the world needs prophets; a pastor must have time for study, else he will fail as a prophet; do not expect too much of him; he is only human like most of us; he may make mistakes and if he does, be a little kinder to him than usual. Be generous in your praise of him; this will help him; it will not hurt him for you to give him expressions of your love for him; respect the privacy of his home. Pray often that God's presence may be ever with your pastor. Finally follow as he leads. At the close of this address, solos were given by Mrs. Hotaling and Mr. Van Etten with the choir giving a soft musical background to their renderings. This anthem was "Patient Breathe an Evening Blessing." The entire congregation then sang the hymn, "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord," after which the newly installed pastor, the Rev. Mr. French, gave the benediction. A short social time followed with introductions and felicitations. This event will be a red letter affair in Hurley Church history.

The Willing Workers of our village church will give an entertainment in the Sunday school room on Friday evening, June 18. The play which was so well received in Stone Ridge lately will be given here by the same talent which gave the play so acceptably to the Stone Ridge people. The play is entitled "Miss Neptune," and has two acts full of fun, bright hits and cleverly done. The cast is as follows:

Hugh Brewster, of the Princeton Theological Seminary ..... Granville Lockwood.
Lester Elliott, a lawyer, in love with Margaret ....Percy Schoonmaker
Jerry, a negro janitor of the church and a stage driver....Jack Palen
Margaret Cameron, Miss Neptune.. Dorothy Palen.
Mrs. Blunt, a widow...Anna Markle
Mrs. Richman, a rich widow, in love with Lester Elliott ..... Margaret Hardenbergh.
Eloise Featherton, sentimental old maid .....Edith Lockwood
Jane Boardman, an athletic girl.... Bessie Turner.
Lulu Marsh, a shy girl ..... Olive Terwilliger.
Muriel French, a gushing girl ..... Dorothy Lockwood.
Johnny, a country boy ..... Raymond Bishop.

There will be ice cream and cake with the social hour, so that a most enjoyable evening is assured.

Members of Ulster County Bar Endorse Surrogate Walter N. Gill

The undersigned, members of the Ulster County Bar, believe that the public interests will be most substantially subserved by the renomination and reelection of the present surrogate, Honorable Walter N. Gill.

During his administration, Surrogate Gill has displayed not only profound legal learning, especially in the department of testamentary law, but also a remarkable degree of common sense in the application of his knowledge to the question in hand.

He has, in addition to this, shown untiring patience in the hearing, and discriminating care and industry in the examination and decision of matters before him.

During his administration, he has been in attendance for the personal transaction of business every day in the week, and not merely on two court days—a practice which has been wonderfully helpful to suitors and attorneys. He has, moreover, found time to perform valuable and needed services, forming no part of his actual official duty, to the great saving of the money of the taxpayers of this county.

In short, it is difficult to see how any public officer could have been more diligent, capable, or efficient.

Above all, his official action has been, at all times, characterized by absolute and unquestioned integrity.

Of late, the best thought has tended to exclude partisan considerations in the selection of judges, and we believe this to be the very case where this principle should be applied. In view of the great qualifications of the present surrogate, it would be a public detriment if a continuance of services so valuable were not availed of.
